

Because You Gave, Innovation Grows

Land Acknowledgement

Ok! The Chinook Regional Hospital Foundation acknowledges that we live, work, and play on the lands of the Blackfoot people of the Canadian Plains. In all that we do, we pay respect to all Indigenous, First Nations, Métis and Inuit people past, present and future while recognizing and respecting their cultural heritage, beliefs and relationship to the land. We honour all Indigenous peoples who help shape and strengthen healthcare in our community.

Moving Healthcare Forward, Together

Innovation and growth are not abstract ideas. They are the result of people coming together with a shared purpose to move healthcare forward.

Across our region, we are seeing what becomes possible when communities align around a common goal.

Because of you, healthcare is not standing still. It is evolving. New technologies are transforming how care is delivered. Innovative approaches are improving outcomes and experiences. Our teams are better equipped, more connected, and empowered to meet the needs of today while building toward tomorrow.

This level of progress extends well beyond healthcare. It builds regional strength, increases capacity, and advances access to care closer to home for every stage, every age, and every generation.

Every milestone in this report reflects that momentum. Every impact reflects your decision to be part of something bigger.

Thank you for helping turn innovation into action, and growth into lasting impact.

Message from President & CEO

This year has been defined by innovation and growth, made possible by a community that continues to step forward with purpose and compassion.

Because of you, we are seeing real progress across our region. From advancing cardiac care through Bringing Hearts Home, to investing in groundbreaking work in prostate cancer through DAPAR and improving breast cancer outcomes with Magseed and Magtrace, your support is changing what care looks like today and what it will become tomorrow.

Most importantly, this work is about the people. It advances access to care closer to home for every stage, every age, and every generation. It is about ensuring that individuals and families across southern Alberta experience care that is more advanced when they need it most.

Thank you for being part of this momentum, and choosing to make a difference.

Chinook Regional Hospital Foundation

Message from Board Chair

Thank you for your incredible support over the past year. Your generosity has inspired hope, change, and healing for so many in our community. Every story of care and compassion we shared this year was made possible because of you.

The strides made this past year in securing diversified funding and expanding strategic programs exemplify Chinook Regional Hospital Foundation's vital role as a convener and innovator in healthcare philanthropy.

Looking ahead, we are energized by ambitious goals to take innovation even further, including investments in research and equipment that will elevate the level of care available to southern Albertans. These efforts will help position our region as a leader within the province, and even across Canada. They will also support the recruitment and retention of leading physicians, ensuring the healthcare you rely on not only remains in our communities but continues to grow in scope.

Stories of Impact

Lives You've Changed

“The acquisition of new Olympus flexible ureteroscopes has had a meaningful impact on our urology service and, most importantly, on our patients. Flexible ureteroscopy is a cornerstone of modern stone surgery, and having high-quality scopes available ensures that patients receive timely care without unnecessary delays or cancellations.

The new ureteroscopes have allowed us to maintain consistent access to the OR, reduce our dependence on disposable alternatives, and deliver the standard of care our patients deserve.

On behalf of our urology team and the patients we serve at Chinook Regional Hospital, I want to sincerely thank the Foundation and its donors for making this possible. Investments like these may not always be visible to the public, but they are felt every day by the patients whose care depends on them.”

– Dr. James Hayes, Urologist

Grateful Patient

By transforming gratitude into action, the healing process for patients and families is enhanced.

It has been identified that when a patient or family is able to thank those who have provided exceptional care or whose kindness has made a difference, it uplifts clinicians, physicians, nurses, care providers and even housekeeping or food service staff, and enhances their ability to care for future patients. Gratitude through a transformational gift is the ultimate in “paying it forward!”

When patients and families understand how grateful giving leads to improvements in care procedures and processes, the result is our collective ability to bring world-class healthcare right here to our community.

“What makes me happy is knowing I am making others happy.”

– Nancy Saunders

Impact Story

Nancy believes deeply in the importance of giving back, shaped by both her career in healthcare and her personal experience as a patient.

After many years as a nurse, she witnessed firsthand how innovation and compassion work together to improve patient care. When she was diagnosed with breast cancer four years ago, that understanding became personal, reinforcing her gratitude for the care she received at the Chinook Regional Hospital.

Her gift reflects a belief that growth in healthcare must always be rooted in compassion and that innovation should enhance every patient's journey.

Through her generosity, she is helping build a future where compassionate, innovative care is there for everyone who needs it.

Rooted in Giving, Grateful for Care

For Evelyn and Dennis, giving back has always been a way of life.

Both raised on farms in Manitoba, they learned early from their parents that supporting your community is simply what you do, even when you may not have much yourself. Those values stayed with them throughout their lives.

Although neither Evelyn nor Dennis grew up in southern Alberta, the region has been home for many years. And when they needed healthcare most, it was the team at the Chinook Regional Hospital who stood beside them.

In 2021, Evelyn was diagnosed with breast cancer. Throughout her treatment journey, she experienced compassionate, exceptional care from the staff at the hospital's Jack Ady Centre. From medical expertise, to the kindness shown during difficult moments, the experience left a lasting impact on her and strengthened her desire to support cancer care for others facing similar journeys.

In late 2017 and 2018, Dennis underwent prostate treatment and has also required care through the Emergency Department over the past year. He too experienced firsthand the dedication and compassion of healthcare teams working tirelessly to care for patients across southern Alberta.

"Until you need the hospital yourself, you don't always realize just how important it is," they share. "The care we received was incredible, and supporting healthcare feels like one of the most meaningful ways we can give back."

Their philanthropy is grounded not in recognition, but in gratitude and in the belief that every person can make a difference.

"You don't have to be a major donor to have an impact... If everyone gives what they can, it adds up to something truly powerful."

– Evelyn and Dennis Bryant

New Firsts

Magseed & Magtrace

Because you gave, women in southern Alberta are benefitting from Magseed. This innovative, wire-free approach to breast cancer surgery has improved patient comfort since its introduction, with 22 magseeds placed so far.

There have been 18 Magseed surgeries completed since December 2025. Procedures are utilizing Magseed to accurately locate hard-to-detect tumours, without painful pre-operative wires or radioactive injections.

“I had a magseed implanted instead of a wire locator. The implantation and subsequent mammogram were scheduled one week before my surgery. On the morning of surgery, I received the nuclear injections for sentinel node biopsy, but no other treatments. This greatly improved my comfort level going into surgery. The surgery in 2026 resulted in clear margins and re-excision is not required.”

Christmas Tree Festival

A Tradition Reimagined. A Community United.

The Christmas Tree Festival continues to be one of our most cherished and impactful community traditions, bringing people together in support of local healthcare.

In 2025, the festival grew both in scale and experience, expanding to a new venue and introducing additional events that welcomed more families, sponsors, and community members than ever before.

The Christmas Tree Festival is a reflection of what's possible when a community comes together with purpose. It combines generosity, tradition, and innovation to make a meaningful difference to help sustain support of patient care.

Care From the Heart Radio-a-thon

On February 12, 2026, the City of Lethbridge was blown away by the energy, excitement and generosity from the community and beyond, who came together in a very meaningful and impactful way to support the annual Care From the Heart Radio-a-thon in support of Chinook Regional Hospital.

The stellar support from Balog Auction Mart and Honorary Chair Bob Balog, the Costco team and the Community, along with the participation from local radio stations B93.3FM, 106.7 Rock, Wild 95.5, 94-1 CJOC, The Ranch, and KISS 107.7, helped to galvanize the citizens across the region and $499,238 was raised.

Collectively since its inception and with the community's commitment to their hospital, this event has raised over $5.7 million!

Each donation is an investment in better care, advanced technology, and new opportunities.

Your generosity is helping drive innovation, strengthen care, and ensure that Chinook Regional Hospital continues to grow for the needs of our community.

In August 2026, we proudly host the inaugural Hearts & Health Golf Classic at Paradise Canyon, bringing sponsors, partners, and local leaders together in support of healthcare in our region.

This new signature event reflects our continued commitment to growing community-driven support and creating meaningful opportunities for connection and impact.

We look forward to welcoming everyone to the first of many memorable tournaments.

Lotteries

Big Prize – Big Impact

The lotteries that the CRHF provides, are a consistent source of fundraising dollars with proceeds funding healthcare initiatives and programs that seek to improve well-being across the entire spectrum of healthcare.

“Not only am I truly grateful for the win, I’m also truly grateful that I can give back and contribute to the wonderful support that the foundation gives to “My Hospital”. This is where our first child was born, where my Mother received tremendous healthcare, where all eight of our Grandchildren were born, this is where our Grandson’s life was saved in the ER. Big thanks to all the caregivers who serve us all so well and thank you to the CRH Foundation, for providing me with a way to give back in a small way by being a regular donor to the 50/50 draw and the annual Truck draw!”

Special Projects: Enhancing Care & Community Spaces

Ronald McDonald House Comfort Cart in partnership with CRHF & Volunteer Resources – This Cart provides practical supports and small comforts for pediatric patients and helps families during stressful hospital stays.

Clothing Closet – The Clothing Closet provides essential clothing items to patients and residents, including socks, underwear, t-shirts, sweatpants, coats, boots, and other seasonal items, helping patients leave care with dignity, warmth, and respect.

Coaldale Health Centre – The Coaldale Health Centre helps patients experience moments of joy, connection, and belonging through activities such as bingo, crafts and beautification programs.

Equipment: Enabling Better Care, Every Day

With your support, healthcare teams now have access to essential and advanced tools that improve both patient outcomes and clinical efficiency.

Programs: Supporting Healing Beyond Treatment

Your generosity continues to strengthen programs that support patients and families beyond clinical care. Investments in the Sensory Room, Stroke Program equipment, and Chronic Pain Education are helping individuals navigate complex health journeys with greater support.

You also made a difference during some of life's most difficult moments by funding bereavement boxes for families and supported community connection through programs like the Java Group in Coaldale.

Innovation in Action

In partnership with the Alberta Cancer Foundation, and because of your generosity, we are advancing care in meaningful ways, enhancing environments, equipping frontline teams, and strengthening programs that directly impact patients and families. We used your kindness to fund critical improvements, boost comfort and empower our professionals in various facilities and programs.

DAPAR

Dose Adapted Personalized Ablative Radiotherapy

The Future of Care is Happening Here

The DAPAR trial is a clinical study designed to establish a new evidence-based standard for treating intermediate to high-risk prostate cancer in a community setting.

By embedding advanced imaging, data collection, and response monitoring directly into routine care, the study strengthens local research infrastructure and builds clinical trial capacity in southern Alberta.

Importantly, DAPAR is designed with scalability in mind, creating scalable framework for how community cancer centres can lead sophisticated trials, improve system efficiency, and reduce strain on tertiary sites.

The knowledge gained has the potential to influence provincial practice guidelines, shorten wait times, and improve quality of life for patients well beyond the initial study population.

Because of donor support, Lethbridge patients can participate in MRI-guided research that personalizes radiation based on how their tumour responds.

Less travel Less waiting More care close to home

Ureteroscope

Utilized for biopsy and resection of uroepithelial tumours, including bladder cancer, this state-of-the-art equipment will improve access and quality of care for patients with urologic cancers.

Flexible Fiberoptic Ureteroscopes represent the next evolution in flexible fiberoptic ureteroscopy. It features exceptional image quality and provides maximum flexibility and durability using passive bending technology that prevents damage while allowing new access to formerly unreachable areas of the kidney.

Its improved compatibility with popular sterilization methods makes for easy cleaning.

Sensory Room

The sensory room has become an essential tool in supporting regulation and engagement.

It allows for earlier, more proactive intervention when youth begin to experience distress, and provides an alternative to more intensive responses.

Notably, staff have observed a shift in how youth respond to 1:1 support.

Where there was previously hesitation or reluctance, youth are now more eager to participate when sessions are offered in the sensory room, often expressing enthusiasm and increased openness to engage.

Omni Retractor

OMNI retractor is a surgical instrument used to hold back tissue and maintain clear visibility of the operative field during procedures.

It provides stable, hands-free retraction, allowing surgeons improved access and precision throughout surgery.

Commonly used across a variety of surgical specialties, the OMNI retractor system is adjustable and versatile, helping enhance efficiency, visibility, and safety in the operating room.

GlideScope

A GlideScope is a video laryngoscopy system used to help clinicians safely and effectively place a breathing tube during airway management. It uses a small high-resolution camera and light source built into the blade to provide a clear, magnified view of the airway on a video monitor.

The GlideScope is commonly used in emergency departments, operating rooms, intensive care units, and critical care settings. It improves visualization of vocal cords, supports faster and more accurate intubation, particularly in difficult airways. It also enhances patient safety during life-saving procedures.

Sonosite Ultrasound System

A Sonosite Ultrasound System is a small, portable machine that lets doctors and nurses see inside the body in real time using sound waves. It helps clinicians quickly understand what's happening to make faster, safer decisions about care.

By bringing advanced imaging directly to the bedside, this device spares patients from being transported to other departments. It allows teams to immediately view the heart, check for internal bleeding, scan organs, and safely guide needles for procedures right when and where it matters most.

Financial Performance

In 2025-2026, the Chinook Regional Hospital Foundation demonstrated strong financial performance, reflecting the continued trust and generosity of its donor community. This success was driven in large part by a landmark campaign supporting cardiac care, alongside steady contributions from unrestricted giving, community events, annual campaigns, and gaming initiatives.

Investment income also contributed to overall results, further strengthening the Foundation's financial position.

Together, these diverse revenue streams enabled meaningful investments in critical equipment, patient care initiatives, and priority projects within the hospital, underscoring the Foundation's ability to adapt and deliver results in a dynamic healthcare environment. Financial stewardship remained a key priority, with careful management of expenses and a focus on maximizing the impact of every contribution.

The Foundation continued to allocate significant funding toward hospital equipment, programs, and priority projects, while maintaining a disciplined and sustainable approach to operations.

This strong financial position supports both immediate needs and long-term priorities, ensuring readiness to respond to evolving demands in healthcare. Through responsible governance and a commitment to transparency, the Foundation reinforces donor confidence and its role as a vital partner in advancing care at Chinook Regional Hospital.

Coming in 2026/2027:

You Can Help Bring What's Next to Life

In 2026/2027, donor generosity will help advance the next chapter of innovation and growth in healthcare across southern Alberta.

These priorities focus on transformational investments, bringing advanced technology, specialized treatment, clinical research, and care closer to home for patients and families.

With your support, we can help build a future where more people receive the right care, with the right tools, closer to the people and communities they love.

Together, the next impact story starts here.

Cancer Care

Redefining Precision in Cancer Care & Men's Health

Standard testing can miss critical details, leaving local men to face the vulnerability of inconclusive results and delayed treatment. To ensure our community has definitive answers from their very first screening, we are launching a sophisticated oncology suite featuring the DAPAR clinical trial, KOELIS Trinity® Biopsy System, Piranha Laser, Magseed & Magtrace, and Hologic Faxitron Trident HD.

With the support of our donors, we can provide 3D diagnostic precision and immediate treatment, moving patients from anxiety to recovery much faster.

Advanced Surgical Tools

Bringing High-Tech Precision to Complex Healing

Healing after an accident, or breast cancer requires incredibly delicate work, like fixing tiny nerves and blood vessels thinner than a strand of hair.

To bring this advanced precision to Lethbridge, we are investing in the Zeiss Tivato 700 Microscope. This technology gives surgeons intense magnification, shadow-free lighting, and rock-solid stability to perform life-changing surgeries.

With your support, local patients can get this specialized care right here at Chinook Regional Hospital.

Advancing Care Closer to Home

Keeping Families Together During Medical Journeys

Managing a medical crisis is hard enough without the added strain of long-distance travel, which is often exhausting and deeply stressful for families.

Medical care designed to keep patients in their own community offers a solution. Expanding internal capacity through the Piranha Laser, KOELIS Trinity®, and Magseed/Magtrace platforms permanently stations world-class tools right here.

With your support, we can transform the healing journey in an environment close to the people they love.

Bringing Hearts Home

Cardiac Care Closer to Home

Heart disease remains a critical threat, and when a cardiac emergency strikes, every single minute matters.

The Bringing Hearts Home campaign continues to stand as one of the most significant, life-saving healthcare transformations in southern Alberta's history, sustaining our commitment to establishing full, local cardiac care capacity at Chinook Regional Hospital.

With your ongoing support, we can ensure that when a crisis hits, life-saving cardiac care is exactly where it needs to be: closer to home.

Campaign Update

Bringing Hearts Home

The Bringing Hearts Home Campaign continues to build extraordinary momentum, driven by the generosity of donors, partners, and communities across southern Alberta. By March 2026, the campaign reached $26.5 million, reflecting a powerful collective commitment to improving cardiac care for our region. Support has come from every corner of southern Alberta, individuals, families, businesses, producers, foundations, municipalities, and community groups, each playing a role in transforming care. Importantly, this impact is already being felt. Investments are supporting prevention, early diagnosis, and enhanced care today, while building toward the future of advanced cardiac services in our region.

This is more than a campaign. It is a movement, bringing care closer to home for every community, every family, and every generation.

Thank you for making this possible.

Because of you, advanced cardiac care is coming closer to home.

Campaign Snapshot

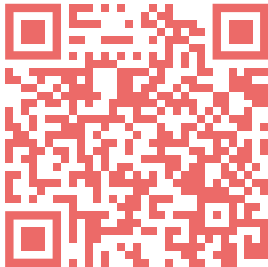

Government Investment & Project Update

A Shared Commitment to Cardiac Care

The momentum of the Bringing Hearts Home Campaign has helped advance one of the most significant healthcare investments in southern Alberta’s history. In Budget 2026, the Government of Alberta committed $59 million over the next three years toward the development of cardiac services in the region, including a cardiac catheterization lab and expanded critical care capacity at Chinook Regional Hospital and Medicine Hat Regional Hospital. This investment reflects a shared commitment, by both government and community, working together to strengthen healthcare for the region. Planning for these enhancements is underway, with a phased approach that will bring new services, technology, and capacity to southern Alberta over the coming years. Philanthropy continues to play a critical role, accelerating readiness, enhancing innovation, and ensuring the region is prepared to deliver the highest level of care as services come online. Together, this partnership is shaping the future of cardiac care, reducing travel times, improving outcomes, and ensuring patients can access life-saving care closer to home.

Ways to Give: Change the experience of care

Single Donations or Support Lotteries

A one-time donation is a powerful act that leads to direct change. However much you want to give, we will find a use for it. And remember: charitable donations of any amount will be provided with a tax receipt.

Monthly Donations & Employee Giving

Setting up a monthly donation is a great way to give a lot over an extended period of time. Just a few dollars from every paycheck really adds up. With a regular income to count on, our Foundation can also do more to plan ahead and allocate resources.

Securities & Diverse Assets

You can champion local healthcare through a variety of meaningful assets, including shares, life insurance, real estate, artwork, endowments, bursaries, and RRSPs. Every gift helps us bring advanced care closer to home.

Legacy Giving or Memorial Giving

One day, someone you love may need care close to home. A legacy gift helps ensure future generations of southern Albertans have access to exceptional healthcare, comfort, and support when it matters most. It is a lasting expression of compassion that continues to touch lives long after your lifetime. Your generosity will help build a healthier future for families across our region.

Volunteering

Supporting our Foundation can be more than giving money. You can choose to give your time, too. We're always looking for volunteers to lend a hand at events, in and around our hospital, and in our offices, too! You'll not only contribute to a great cause, you'll become part of a warm and friendly community that truly looks out for each other.
